BRIEFLY:

Mark and his band exemplify what lies at the heart of the best of Americana: gutsy, unpretentious music with soul and spirit. Despite his large catalog, there is no sameness to his songs, but they all reflect a common life thread that connects, and Jungers accomplishes this with an instantly appealing roots music approach. His songs are a by-product of time on the farm, time on the road and most of all, a deep commitment to the craft of songwriting.

QUOTES:

“In life and in art, Mark Jungers is a reality dealer. A trailblazing Americana singer, songwriter and musician with By God sod busting roots, Jungers lays out the perils, the pitfalls and the pleasures of life in equal measure. And, accompanied by a like-minded music-making crew, Jungers uses a mixture of country, folk, rock and more to get that reality across with soul, conviction and a solid backbeat.”

Jim Beal, Jr., KSYM- Third Coast Music Network DJ

“The Texas highways are littered with the discarded Texan songwriters who failed the authenticity sniff test. But veteran singer Mark Jungers has survived, writing songs that fit the here and now of rural Texas without sounding cheap or pandering.”

Calvin Powers, TaprootRadio.com

“He’s working a niche within a niche, to be sure - folks who dig Robert Earl Keen and John Prine but want a deeper peek into literate, soulful modern folk would do well to start with Jungers...”

Mike Ethan Messick, Texas Music Scene

“Imagine Neil Young with a sense of humor or Jay Farrar on anti-depressants...welcome to the world of Mark Jungers, my favorite songwriter.”

Jeremy Halliburton, KTXN, Victoria, TX

“Mark Jungers writes and sings about the type of human condition that is the true reason this country is able to stay on the course of greatness. He’s got grease on his hands and dirt and blood on his shirt. He connects. And that is what music is supposed to do. If you have listeners that actually have to work for a living, One for the Crow is for them. Grab a shovel and dig. Mark does.”

Mattson Rainer, KNBT Radio, New Braunfels, TX
